DAVIS FORMALLY APPOINTED.

He Will Have Charge of Construction of New Y. M. C. A. Architect David, of Philadelphia, met the trustees of the Young Men's Christian association yesterday and was formally appointed architect of the new Young Men's Christian association building. His plans have successfully passed the test not only of the expert opinion of Prof. Hamlin, but of W. B. Millar, the international secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, who has made a specialty of association building plans, and of nearly every member of both the board of directors and the board of trustees of the local association.

By today's action, rapid work on the building is assured. Architect David agrees to submit full working drawings and specifications for approval by the middle of January and to have them completed by Feb. 1. This will enable the association to let contracts by March 1 and to begin work on the construction as soon as the frost is out of the ground in the spring.

A prospectus will be presented shortly by the association, giving a detailed description of the building, its uses and possibilities.

UNKNOWN MAN KILLED.

Wore a Shirt Bearing the Laundry Mark "McK"—Was Run Down by a D. & H. Train.

An unknown man, terribly injured, was discovered shortly after 11 o'clock last night lying alongside the north-bound track of the Delaware and Hudson railroad between Mulberry and Linden streets. He had evidently been struck by the Carbondale train which leaves the Delaware and Hudson station at 11 o'clock.

The man was still alive, though unconscious. His head was terribly crushed in over the left temple and the left arm and hand were terribly mutilated. The right side was uninjured, showing that he must have been struck on the left side.

The two Lackawanna trainmen who found the man signalled the crew of the 11.30 Wilkes-Barre train, which was just then backing out, and the injured man was taken on this to the Carbone street crossing and the Lackawanna hospital ambulance was summoned.

This arrived in a few minutes, but the man died just as it arrived. In order to thoroughly satisfy himself, however, Dr. Weisenberg, the surgeon, took him to the hospital, where it was positively ascertained that he was dead. The body was then removed to Cusick's undertaking establishment on Washington avenue.

The only marks of identification on the body was a shirt with the laundry mark "McK" on it. The man appeared to be about 35 years old, was about 5 feet eight inches tall and weighed about 140 pounds. He was evidently a mine worker, on account of the cut and calloused condition of the hands. The hair was close cut and light brown in color, with a slight mustache of an even lighter shade. The clothes consisted of grey striped trousers and a black sack coat, with a white laundry shirt. He wore neither collar nor necktie.

The body was at first identified by Frank Dougherty as that of John Hale, a laborer for Miner Henry McHale in the Sandy Banks mine. McHale was aroused and came to the undertaking establishment, but stated positively that it was not O'Hara, whom he described as being more stockily built and looking entirely unlike the dead man. Up to the time of going to press the body was still at Cusick's undertaking rooms.

It is thought by many that the man lived in Pine Brook and was on his way home. The tracks are very dark and are considered especially dangerous at this point. Dr. Weisenberg says the fact that the man lived at all, being struck as he was, as the injury to the skull was sufficient to instantly kill an ordinary man.

CHILD BADLY BURNED.

Was Playing with Fire and Clothing Became Ignited.

The little four-year-old daughter of Thomas Harmon, of Throop, was most frightfully burned about the face, body and limbs yesterday morning by the accidental setting on fire of her clothing.

The little one was playing in the yard with a stick, which she had held in the kitchen stove until one end was blazing, and was amusing herself watching the flames as they crept up the stick.

In some manner the flames caught the inflammable dress of the child and before assistance arrived from a man who heard her cries, the face and body of the little one were badly burned. Dr. Jacobs, of Throop, was soon on hand and relieved his little patient somewhat from her sufferings. The parents live in hope that the accident may not prove fatal.

The accident seems all the more hard to the family, as the father was taken very ill and removed to a hospital in Scranton the day before.

FUNERAL OF MRS. M'KINNEY.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary McKinney was attended yesterday afternoon from the residence of her son, Carl W. McKinney, No. 4 Platt place. Services were conducted by Rev. James McLeod, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which the deceased was one of the earliest members. Interment was made in Dunmore cemetery.

The pall-bearers were: Russell Dimick, A. P. Bedford, William Silkman, Myron Clark, L. J. Williams and Frank O. Megargee.

A Card. We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure the cough. We guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

DAVIS.—In West Scranton, Nov. 30, 1899, Mrs. John X. Davis, aged 82 years. Funeral announcement later.

VARIANCE OF $5,000

IN THEIR FIGURING

STATEMENT OF THE CLAIMS IN THE SMITH-LOOMIS CASE.

Judge Gordon Gave the Case to the Jury at 5 O'Clock P. M. Yesterday. Unusual Kind of Ejectment Suit Called Before Judge Archibald. Verdict for the Defendant in the Barrett-Palmer Case—Mrs. Timmons Allowed $1,000 in Her Suit Against City of Carbondale.

The Smith-Loomis case was submitted to the jury by Judge Gordon at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after having been on trial since Monday. Judge Gordon, in his charge, overruled the contention of the plaintiff that F. E. Loomis and John H. Fellows, the trustees, had been false in their trust and could not recover for services as trustees. This allowed them to put in claims for staking out the plat, selling lots, collecting rents, caring for the property and other like acts of agents.

Their statement of the account charges them with $13,745.30 and enumerates in detail the amount of $18,674.65, leaving a balance in favor of the plaintiffs of $2,927.78.

The plaintiff's statement allows them $11,090 and charges them with $10,003.96, leaving a balance owing of $4,086.96.

Hon. H. V. Palmer and Cornelius Smith, counsel for the plaintiffs, respectively argued the law points, and the closing addresses were made by H. M. Hannah for the defense and George M. Watson for the plaintiff.

A non-suit, with a rule for a new trial, was directed to enter yesterday in the ejectment case of John L. Hull against H. A. Hill and others.

The suit was brought to secure possession of the store rooms in the Kennedy & Carter building, occupied by Hill & Connell.

HOW THE CASE ORIGINATED. The plaintiff is assigned for his brother, Stephen P. Hull, who leased the store October 1, 1895, for five years and failed after being a tenant a little more than six months. When the assignee sold the goods he was to relinquish the deed, but the owners of the building refused to grant a release.

As time went on and the monthly payments of rent did not occur, the owners leased the store to Hill & Connell. They had put in a claim for five years' rent from Hull, and the assignee who was appointed to distribute the funds of the assigned estate allowed their claim.

Thereupon Hull, the assignee, made a demand for the rental that came from Hill & Connell, but was refused, on the ground that he was no act from the Hull estate that the building was prevented from being left empty, and further, because the terms of the lease with Hull, a default in payment of the monthly rent made the whole rental for five years due and payable at once. This projected the ejectment suit.

Judge Archibald ruled that the plaintiffs had not established a case and granted a non-suit.

The jury in the case of Mrs. Mary Barrett assigned John Palmer, which retired at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, in granting $100,000 judgment until 11 o'clock the next morning. They stood eight to four for the defendant until that hour, when the four turned over and allowed the twelve to get home for Thanksgiving dinner.

Verdict Against Carbondale.

A verdict of $1,000 for the plaintiff was returned in the case of Mrs. Mary Timmons against the city of Carbondale. In granting $100,000 judgment the city appropriated a 2x3x150 foot strip of Mrs. Timmons' lot, and also raised the street six feet above the level of the rear part of her lot. The city claimed the improvements enhanced the value of the property beyond the worth of the lot taken.

One of the jurors, Francis McKenna, was not on hand at the opening of court, when the jury assembled to make its report, and after waiting until 11 o'clock, Judge Archibald directed Sheriff Pryor to bring him in. A deputy was about to start out in search of him when he came in.

In May, 1898, a commission declared that A. A. Brown was incapable of managing his estate, a half interest in a property at the corner of Penn avenue and Spruce street, valued at $12,000. Exceptions were filed to this report and yesterday the case was heard before Judge Archibald and a jury. No defense was offered and the finding of the commission was affirmed.

A verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $250.75 was directed in the case of Leshar & Sons' Rope company against the United H. Coal company. No defense was offered.

By agreement of the parties a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $12.55 was directed to enter in the case of the Merchants' National bank against John Lentz.

PROF. COLES FOR DECEMBER.

During the past three months all of the great planets have been grouped together on one side of the heavens. In consultation as to where, laying plans for the great meteorological new century schedule that will go into effect at the commencement of the coming new century, January 1st, 1900; and we have reasons to believe that it will contain many new and destructive storms, combinations of frightful appearances, electrical displays, sudden and severe earth tremblings; strange and startling heavenly phenomena; wrathful and wreckful water wavings, and unprecedented meteorological convulsions. The great planetary conjunction now in session will close just after the great final act, which will take place on the 16th inst., when Neptune, Earth, Saturn, Sun and Moon will form into one line, and watch the deep shadows enshroud the Moon in darkness. This same scene occurred some thousands of years ago and will occur again in seven thousand years. Whether this great planetary conjunction and moon eclipse will cause earthquakes and kindred phenomena, or peaceful and quiet conditions of the earth and the atmosphere remains to be seen.

AMERICA, AROUSE!

December starts in on a "High Flood" day and the whole month will be ruled by the "High Flood" vital forces in America. This situation will afford a great opportunity for all business men in America to make business hum! but in order to do this they must have an unbounded amount of cultivated confidence in each other; for the first time in the moon forms will be a parallel to each other. This unpleasant and unfortunate will cause the general health of the people to fall below the average; cereal markets to fluctuate; speculation to be dull, and every one to lack confidence. From the 1st of the month will be the best time to start new enterprises; and as Christmas falls upon a "Low Ebb" day in a sign far removed from the influence of Jupiter, our financial planet, we advise all business men to throw out their inducements so as to bring in the bulk of their Christmas trade on or before Saturday, the 23d inst. A merry Christmas to all.

VALUABLE INFORMATION.

Judging from the numerous flattering testimonials that we received last year endorsing our "Valuable Information" department, in our forecasts, it was greatly appreciated; and we again give the best days to kill pork, beef, fowls, etc., for the holiday trade.

The best days for the best of the week are: Beef, 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, 9th, 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th. Killed at any time between the 20th and 27th the meat will be soft, strong and unwholesome. The 18th and 19th will be two good strong days to kill for Christmas purposes; and the 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th will be the best days for Saturday, the 18th, as the planetary conjunctions and moon eclipse on that day will make it unfortunate for both man and beast. The strongest and best days for surgical operations will be the 1st, 9th, 14th, 19th and 23rd. Avoid operations on any of the "Low Ebb" days, as marked upon our Storm and Sign Calendar. The best days for fishing or hunting will be the 2d, 7th, 9th, 14th, 18th, 20th, 25th and 30th. Fish or game killed at any time between the 20th and 27th will not be good for man to eat.

THE STORMS AND SIGNS.

Our prediction, "that the great planets all being on one side of the heavens during the last months of the Nineteenth century would cause the magnetic and electric junctions to form over the ocean where they would ground without much atmospheric agitation," proved true. And that was the reason why we warned our readers last month that the warning signal, "to watch out for a great storm of stupendous dimensions that is liable to jump up out of the ocean, in the near future, and sweep down upon us with unprecedented fury." An east wind or clouds running up from the south, will be the warning signal. The regular storm periods this month will be due between the 4th and 8th, the 11th and 14th, the 16th and 20th, the 22d and 25th and the 27th and 31st. The last storm period may extend far south and as far west as the planetary conjunctions have passed, on the 16th inst. unprecedented reactionary storm period will surprise us all, especially during the months of January, February and March. Great floods and blizzards will be almost sure to follow after the conjunction, for at least three months. Watch the moon eclipse on the 16th inst.

THEATRICAL.

"The Village Postmaster."

It is very evident that plays after the fashion of "Way Down East," "The Old Homestead" and "Shore Acres" have become something of a fad and this largely accounts for the reception given "The Village Postmaster" wherever it has appeared. Like the other plays mentioned, it is a picture of rural life in New England and is as equally amusing as any of them. It is a pure and sweet story as a portrayal of village life nearly fifty years ago, it is quite interesting.

"The Village Postmaster" will come to the Lyceum Monday evening. The little role of Seth Huggins, the postmaster, is admirably portrayed by Archie Boyd, the great character comedian. The play will come here intact identically the same as it was produced in New York.

The Shea Engagement.

At the Academy of Music next week Thomas E. Shea and his company will play their annual engagement in this city.

The "Man-o-War's Man," in which he will open his engagement, is one of the strongest plays in Mr. Shea's repertoire. It is no wonder that this is so, because the play has all the elements which contribute to a popular success. There is enough of strong, healthy excitement, stirring scenes and thrilling incidents in the piece to furnish material for half a dozen plays. The principal interest, of course, centers in the hero, Captain Jack Conway, impersonated by Mr. Shea.

Rose Sydel Company.

One of the best burlesque shows on the road today will be at the Gaiety theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with three matinees.

Rose Sydel, who is as charming as ever and bright as a lark, is still the leading burlesque star of the company. She is surrounded by a lot of bright and pretty girls, with splendid scenery and elegant costumes.

"Courtied Into Court."

"Courtied Into Court" comes to the Lyceum for one performance on Tuesday night, upon which occasion local theatergoers will have their first opportunity to pass judgment upon what has been considered elsewhere as the most laughable farcical comedy concert which has yet emanated from the pen of John J. McNally.

A few of the fetching things promised in "Courtied Into Court" are numerous negro melodies of an up-to-date character, together with other songs which have not yet obtained up to the present time in other companies visiting. Unique specialties also punctuate the performance rather profusely.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

The last month of the year 1899 James O'Neill will spend in a tour through New York and Pennsylvania. During the week of the 4th of December, Mr. O'Neill appears in the city of New York. On the 11th of December he begins a tour which includes the following cities: Wilmington, Allentown, Lancaster, Reading, Johnstown, Altoona, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Elmira, Binghamton and Utica, which brings him up to Jan. 1, 1900. Mr. O'Neill is this season appearing in Liebler & Co.'s production of Sydney Grundy's version of "The Musketeers." The Liebler & Co. production of "The Musketeers" is responsible for the Musketeer craze which swept over New York last season. As D'Artagnan, Mr. O'Neill won the almost universal praise of the New York critics, William Winter even going so far as saying that it was the finest piece of romantic acting that had been seen in New York for fifty years.

As a souvenir of Miss Maud Adams' appearance in "Romeo and Juliet" in New York at the close of last season, Charles Frohman is distributing, with his compliments, Miss Adams' acting version of "Romeo and Juliet." It is a handsomely printed little volume and the drawings, with which it is illustrated, are by Ernest Haskell and C. Allan Gilbert. The stage directions of Miss Adams and contained the words of the play as actually given during the performances by Miss Adams and her company. The stage directions of Miss Adams for the production of the play are also given.
